

What Are Your Highest Risk Products?

We have found that the highest risk janitorial products are generally ones that:

- are corrosive to the eyes and skin;
- are flammable;
- give off toxic fumes; or
- are poisonous.

Product	Hazards Often Seen In This Kind Of Product	Do You Use This Product?
Acid Toilet Bowl Cleaner With Hydrochloric Acid	Corrosive to eyes and skin; Can cause blindness
Metal Cleaner With Perchloroethylene	Poisonous, Causes Cancer, or Flammable
Carpet Spotter With Perchloroethylene	Poisonous, Causes Cancer, or Flammable
General Purpose Cleaner With Butoxyethanol, Sodium Hydroxide, & Ethanolamine	Corrosive to eyes and skin, Poisonous, or Flammable
Floor Finish Stripper With Butoxyethanol, Sodium Hydroxide, & Ethanolamine	Corrosive to eyes and skin & Poisonous
Baseboard Stripper With Butoxyethanol, Sodium Hydroxide, & Ethanolamine	Corrosive to eyes and skin & Poisonous
Graffiti Remover With Methylene Chloride or Perchloroethylene	Poisonous, Causes Cancer, or Flammable
Glass Cleaner With Butoxyethanol	Flammable, or Poisonous
Disinfectant With Bleach, Phenol, Quats., or Hydrogen Peroxide	Corrosive to eyes and skin & Poisonous	